Dearest Friends of DePaul School –

The 2019-2020 school year began with tremendous enthusiasm and excitement at DePaul School. With the generous support of the Phillips Charitable Foundation, we launched the year with a unified focus of a Read-Aloud Program. Facets of this program included regular read aloud buddies in school, challenges for students to be actively reading aloud at home with family members, activities in school such as “Lights Out, Read Out” (in the hallway using flashlights to read) and many other fun activities to bring the world of reading alive to students. I cannot recall a time when the entire school was more enthusiastic and alive with learning than in the of Fall 2019. Teachers were practicing read-alouds, recording and analyzing their efficacy, students were gaining skills for reading with a new-found fervor. Several professional development workshops spurred the teachers to try new ideas and sharpen their skills for both teaching reading and modeling it.

This enthusiasm was carrying forward through the winter months with all intentions of continuing into the spring... and then came March 2020. The world turned upside down for everyone. We had just completed the purchase and set up of Chromebooks for our students in the upper level program as a plan to aid in their eventual transition to their mainstream neighborhood schools when COVID-19 caused a lock-down, shutting down schools across Pennsylvania for the remainder of the year. Fortunately, we were able to send the Chromebooks home with the elementary students on March 13th, allowing connectivity to complete the school year remotely. After two weeks of scrambling to transition our programs to online learning, we reconnected with students and managed to make the most of the remaining twelve weeks of the school year. Children who are deaf or hard of hearing face a significant challenge to learn online. However, they are also very resilient, and have terrific supports at home who have partnered with our teaching staff to make the most of these difficult circumstances.

Across the globe, the entire world is struggling with the impact of COVID-19. Schools are facing many challenges as we try to identify new ways to achieve the same educational goals we have for our students. We are grateful beyond words for the support that you have shown us through this most challenging of times. We know that we could not have been as successful as we have been without the generosity and support that we have received. We consider ourselves to be tremendously blessed by your generosity.

Sincerely,

Ruth G. Auld, EdD
Executive Director

YEAR IN REVIEW 2019 - 2020

We welcomed back two DePaul School Alumni to our annual Reach for the Stars Gala with their very own book signings! Both "told their story" and are now published authors!

Our school year's focus was on reading. One of our favorite activities was our "Lights Out, Read Out" party. We turned out the lights in the hallway and all read our favorite books by flashlight!

Our students were delighted to host the Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill for our annual Founders' Day Celebration!

DePaul Families were Listening and Speaking Rockstars at the virtual Highmark Walk for a Healthy Community, walking around their neighborhoods and raising money for DePaul!!

To celebrate reading, students wished Dr. Seuss a happy birthday with a huge reading themed picnic for Read Across America day!

The 1908 Society honors and acknowledges some of DePaul School's most ardent supporters and friends. These individuals provide direct annual support to further DePaul's mission to teach children who are deaf or hard of hearing to listen and speak. There is no deadline to join the 1908 Society--make your donation of $1,000 or more and join these elite members in making a difference in the lives of the children and families we serve. For more information on how to join, please contact Sara Baines-Miller at 412-924-1012 or sbm@depaulhearingandspeech.org.
